Milliners Carry Dispute Into Court.

New Jurors Selected by Commission.

Action For $5,075 Damages—Court House News.

Several weeks ago Nettie Schnabel, of Cuyahoga Falls, disposed of her interest in a millinery establishment in that village. Miss May Seadschlag was the purchaser. Out of this transaction she has developed a law suit.

Miss Schnabel says that Miss Seadschlag agreed to assume the payment of $57, the balance due on a note for $200. The money was borrowed by the plaintiff when she established the business. With this understanding she transferred the property. She says that the defendant has refused to pay the sum due on the note or any part of it. The case was originally heard in a 'Squire's court and judgment returned for the plaintiff. The defendant has appealed to Common Pleas Court.

JURY COMMISSION.

The jury commission has been in session for three days. It will complete its work today, reporting to County Clerk Hays. An equal number of Democrats and Republicans are selected from every ward and township in the county. Their names are then dropped in the jury wheel.

SEEKING DAMAGES.

Charles S. Fay, an employee of the Kaseh Roofing Co., has filed a petition asking judgment for $5,075. He was injured while employed by the defendant company. He says that the accident was due to the dangerous condition of a machine used in hoisting felt from the ground to a roof on which he was working. He fell 26 feet, fracturing two ribs. The company paid him $25.

RECEIVER'S MOTION.

Hon. Geo. W. Crouse, receiver of the Akron Vitified Pressed Brick Co., has filed a motion asking for authority to settle a claim held against the defendant company by the executors of the Cornell estate. The judgment amounts to $6,100. The executors are willing to accept $2,000 in full for the claim. This is the last outstanding debt against the corporation.

DEED ORDERED.

An order has been issued by the Probate court directing Harriet E. Gable, guardian of Ezra Brown, deceased, to deed the property she holds belonging to her ward's estate to his heirs.

SATISFACTION

And How Two Women Found It.

They Told Their Troubles to the City Coms.

"We want satisfaction," said two South st. ladies who knew their rights and were bound to assert them, as they confronted the City Commissioners, Wednesday morning.

The Board is not accustomed to having lady callers, but behaved very well, notwithstanding that one of the visitors and Commissioner Wilson got into an argument as to whether it would cost $500 or $20 to grade a South st. hill to let the water run off. Mr. Wilson said the work would cost not a cent less than $500. The ladies were positive it would not. They wanted South st. put in such condition that they would not be drowned out of their homes. At any rate, Mr. Wilson said he would take a look at the street, but the callers still tarried.

"Now, just step into the Engineer's office and he can tell you about the grade of the street," said Commissioner McMillen in a snave way, at last, and the Board proceeded to other business without a smile.

POOR JOB.

Was Not Enough Pay In It.

He Worked For Nothing and Paid His Own Board.

"I was visiting in Pittsburg when I had my leg cut off on the railroad," said 16-year-old John Smith, in Police court Wednesday. "The railroad people said they would give me a job and put me in the office to learn telegraphy. But they were not paying me anything and my father had my board to pay, so he told me to come home."

John was charged with vagrancy, having sought lodging at the City prison. His honest appearance enlisted the Mayor's sympathy and the boy was turned over to Poor Director Kendall who helped him on his way to Columbus.

Harry Robertson, 17 years old, was a vagrant, also, in the law's eyes. He was ordered to leave town, and went on toward his home in Chicago.

John Carroll, of Barberton, paid $2 and costs for intoxication, and L. T. Thornton was fined $1 and costs for riding a bicycle without a lantern.

It was also shown that there are now more Sunday schools among the Universalist churches of the state than have ever been reported before.

An interesting round table was conducted by Rev. Lewis Robinson of Eaton.

During the forenoon session an amendment to the constitution providing that Sunday school conventions be made mass, instead of delegate conventions, was voted down.

ENTIRE

Train Jumped the Track.

Hour Later It Was Running Again.

Fast Work on Northern Ohio R. R.

Fierce Storm Between Tallmadge and Kent.

Students Getting Practical Lessons—Railroad News.

One of the most remarkable wrecks on record occurred on the Northern Ohio yesterday between Greenview and Plymouth, when an engine, four freight cars, a baggage and passenger car were derailed. The entire train was thrown from the track.

At the time of the accident a moderately high rate of speed was being maintained. Without warning, one of the axles on the forward car broke. This allowed one side to fall. The end striking the ties threw the car off the rails. The locomotive, which was ahead and the balance of the cars followed suit.

It was after the accident that the remarkable part of the occurrence took place. There was no wrecking crew nearer than Delphos. Without taking the time to send word to that place for assistance the men who were on the train went to work to repair the trouble. One hour later every car was back on the track and the train had resumed its journey. No one was injured and the property loss did not exceed $50. The crew reported the matter to the proper authorities who were astonished at the work that had been accomplished.

STUDENTS AT WORK.

A party of students from the University of Michigan were in the city Tuesday taking measurements of the rails, switches, etc., in the Akron yards. It was the engineering class of the University. They are getting practical experience in the work which they expect to take up after completing their studies at the school.

EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

The storm which visited Akron Tuesday was much more severe north of the city. Between Tallmadge and Kent the wind blew a hurricane. The crew on Erie No. 4, had an exciting experience between those two towns. The wind was so high that a door on the baggage car was blown open. The catch was broken and in order to save the contents of the car it was necessary for two men to brace themselves against the door. In that manner it was kept closed until Kent was reached. One of the men said that the car fairly rocked when the wind struck it broadside.

A NEW ORDER.

Superintendent Byers, of the C. & A. S. C. has issued an order directing a new crew to be stationed in the Orrville yards Sunday. This is done for the purpose of doing away with the delays which have been occasioned there by switching. A number of the passenger trains have been held because of the fact that the freight, which is transferred at that point, to the Pennsylvania, was not handled fast enough. All conductors are ordered to report hereafter when they are delayed.

PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL.

A special train on the Erie, carrying President F. D. Underwood and a party of Erie officials, passed through this city at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. They had been on the western end of the line making an investigation of the situation. They did not stop in this city.

RUSHING THE WORK.

The work of remodeling the Erie passenger station is being rushed. The partition between the ladies' waiting room and the baggage department was torn out today. The additional side-track, in front of the depot, will be completed this week.

Trespassers Fined.

Barberton, June 12.—Henry Smith, Wm. Nettie and James Wagner, for trespassing upon the property of the Columbia Chemical Co., were each fined $5 and costs this morning by Mayor McNamara.

The June Meeting of the Summit County Horticultural Society will be held Wednesday, June 13, at the home of Mrs. J. Hanline, near Stow Corners.
